BOURBON WHISKEY

DEDICATED TO THE ENDURING SPIRIT OF LOVE AND FAMILY

Handcrafted grain-to-glass spirits by a family of distillers with a passion for great taste and good times

OVERVIEW

We age our high-rye bourbon whiskey in new, charred, American Oak barrels. Aged to taste, not principal, our high-rye bourbon strikes notes of smooth cocoa, cinnamon, pepper, and just a touch of citrus. The bourbon flows from barrel to bottle, with no added flavors or colorings.

OUR WHISKEY

Everything at Fordham Lee Distillery begins with our whiskey. After years of small batch testing, we're finally satisfied that we have a result worth sharing. The perfect corn, barley and rye mash distills down to a white whiskey. For our cream blended liqueurs, we blend this with a fresh cream and flavor with natural fruits. For our bourbons, the white whiskey is put into new, charred, American Oak barrels and aged until we say it's ready. We're proud of the result and we thank you for supporting us.

OUR DISTILLERY

Nestled in Maryland's Middletown Valley, Fordham Lee Distillery was founded by Bill Poffenbarger, who believes the best bourbons are perfected from grain-to-glass, and believes in the value of family, friendship, and having a good time. His journey from whiskey connoisseur to bourbon entrepreneur spans many decades, just like his friendship with childhood neighbor, Bruce. Bill named his distillery in honor of his son, Fordham Lee, and named the high-rye bourbon in honor of Bruce's son, Zachary Edward.
